

This is what the output.png should look like to get an accurate pytesesseract reading

On rainy afternoons, embroidering with a